Step 1

Cut comfortable length of nylon thread and using beading needle put on it 6 Es-o-bead of the first color in your range, in my case white. Leaving 10 cm tail make a ring and make immovable knot. Go through the E and then through the second hole of this E. Put 3 white E, 1 light blue E and 1 white E on needle.

Step 2

Go through the first E in the same direction. Go through other 3 beads and go into upper hole. Put 4 white E and 1 blue E on needle.

Step 3

Then go through the first E in the same direction. Go through 3 next beads again and go into upper hole. Put 5 white E on needle and go through the first E in the same direction. The first bracelet row is ready!

To start the second row go through other 4 beads, go into upper hole and put 5 white E on needle.

Step 4

Go through the first bead in the same direction. Make a circle through next 5 bead and go into upper hole. Next flower already uses beads fixed in previous row. Put 2 white E on needle and via blue E make a circle through next 4 white E beads.

Follow scheme from left upper corner. As you can see each flower is created of 6 E and there are 4 flowers in the row. Odd rows we work from left to right and even we go from right to the left. Lace-like look you can make by replacing some E by Miyuki seed beads.

Just watch out your position in scheme and help yourself with ticking of each bead.

Keep on mind: you see just part of bracelet on scheme, you must repeat scheme 3x to reach all bracelet.

Bracelet length is 15 cm, 18 cm included clasp. If you need longer one just add one flower row.
