

The first element is finished. You can add a loop to mount it to a chain.
If you want to make a bracelet, you can make several units and attach them with links made of firepolished beads.

Step 1

Exit from one hole from the lasercut upwards. String 3 size 11° and pass through the next hole down. String 3 size 11° and pass through the first hole upwards. Proceed to the second hole and repeat the step until the entire round is beveled in this way (figure 1 and 2).

Step 2

Exit from the middle 11° of one group of three. String two size 11° and pass through the middle bead of the next group of three on that same side. Repeat another 15 times to complete the round. Exit from the first 11° added in this step (figure 3).

Step 3

String one 11° and pass through the following two 11° of step 2. Repeat 15 more times to complete the round. Exit from the first 11° added in this step (figure 4).

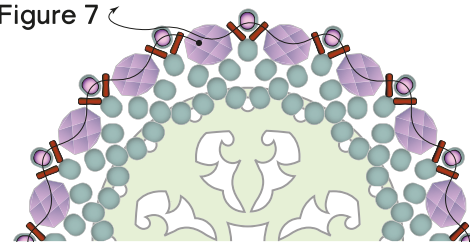

Step 4

String one firepolished bead and pass through the following 11° added in step 3. Repeat 15 more times. Exit from the first firepolished in the end (figure 5).

Step 5

String one 11° and pass through the following firepolished bead. Repeat 15 more times (figure 6).
